

The University of California, Irvine Counseling Center is seeking several dynamic, skilled, committed, multiculturally competent psychologists to join a multidisciplinary setting on a college campus. These full-time senior staff positions are career, year round, and exempt. Psychologists will provide a range of counseling and psychological services to students, professional consultation on mental health issues and emergencies to other campus staff and faculty, and conduct outreach/workshops to the campus community. The positions require the ability to work in a fast-paced environment and to collaborate with other student services.

Successful applicants must have excellent clinical skills, strong organizational skills, exceptional interpersonal skills and ability to effectively interact with other campus agencies. In addition to looking for generalists, due to the needs of our student population, we are particularly interested in individuals who have special training, interest and or experience in behavioral health, sports psychology, and/or working with African American/Black student populations.

The UCI Counseling Center has a long history of providing psychological services to the UCI campus community. UCI is a multiculturally rich environment and the Center prides itself on a staff that is competent and diverse. The Counseling Center provides time-limited treatment, assessment, outreach, and crisis intervention to the campus community. The Center is part of the Division of Student Affairs and has an APA-accredited psychology internship program.

UCI is one of 10 campuses in the University of California system, located in the City of Irvine, near Newport Beach, and 40 miles south of Los Angeles. Irvine is the number one master planned community in America and perennially ranks in the top three safest cities in America with a population of over 100,000. UCI is among the fastest-growing campuses in the UC system with approximately 30,000 students.

UCI is an equal opportunity employer. Candidates from diverse backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply.
